

The 32nd International Conference on Oilseeds Pulses and Special Crops (ICOPS)

April 9-11th, 2019, Kunming, China

Due to the trade war between China and America in 2018, China's market pattern of Special Crops has undergone great changes. China's import quantities of Peas has increased sharply from 1.28 million tons in 2017 to 2.08 million tons in 2018.; However, China's imports quantities of sorghum and barley decreased by more than 20% year-on-year; The import channels of other varieties have increased due to the advance of strategic national policy "One Belt and One Road". In 2019, which changes will the trade situation of China importing Russian flaxseed have? Australian barley in anti-dumping cases, China imports Australian barley which quantity decreased significantly in the fourth quarter of 2018, Whether China importing barley open up new channels? The "Huawei Incident" has raised concerns among Chinese and Canadian traders about normal trade in agricultural products, What trade measures should we adopt? Can China's imports of American agricultural products be transformed from a political level to a market level? When will China's economic operation be able to recovery?

To let the majority of companies timely capture the latest trends, so that fully understand the market status and future prices trends of global Special Crops, understand the policy direction of "One Belt and One Road", get the key data of bilateral trades and meet suppliers and buyers at the same time; In order to help global companies of special crops to establish an international market discussion platform and purchase platform. The 32nd International Conference on Oilseeds Pulses and Special Crops (ICOPS), organized by CHINA AGLOOK and DJIBOUTI INTERNATIONAL FREE TRADE ZONE will be held at the Kai Wah Plaza International Hotel, Kunming, China, on April 9-11th, 2019.

The conference cover peas, flaxseed, non-gmo soybeans, mung beans, rapeseed, sunflower seeds, sorghum, barley, oats, and tapioca chips. The countries to be invited will include Ethiopia, India, Pakistan, Myanmar, Vietnam, Tanzania, Nigeria, Egypt, Dubai, Canada, the United States, Australia, Argentina, Thailand, Russia, Belarus, Mongolia, Kazakhstan, Ukraine, Uzbekistan, Indonesia, Madagascar, Brazil, Turkey, etc.

This conference will depend on the China Merchants Ports in Djibouti, Sudan, Tanzania, Nigeria, Togo, Qingdao, and dedicated to build bonded warehouse and overseas warehouse, will also provide the global Warehouse receipt services and financial services for the attending companies, offering them the storage & transit services of oilseeds, pulses & special crops, which will be more convenient for the industry.
